In addition, there are two time-lines for receiving financial aid, depending upon your choice:

- a) Up Front Financial Aid. The submitting of the necessary documentation for both a) admission to Concordia University and b) a financial aid award may take several weeks. Therefore, you may wish to delay registering for Continuing Education classes until you have received your financial aid award.
- b) Delayed Financial Aid. If you choose to register for Continuing Education classes immediately — prior to submitting the necessary documentation as listed above — you will be expected to pay for classes out-of-pocket when you register. Later, you can use your financial aid award to reimburse yourself.
